

SHUBRATO DEBNATH

ABOUT ME

I'm a Management Information Systems (MIS) graduate with a solid foundation in business courses and a robust technological skill set, encompassing various programming languages. Primarily focused on Java and its frameworks, I've also delved into C++, JavaScript, React, node.js, and PHP.

My goal is to leverage my technological skills to enhance business performance. An active learner, I'm enthusiastic about implementing new knowledge in real-life scenarios. Adaptability is a key strength, allowing me to quickly grasp and apply new concepts.

Beyond coding, my MIS education has equipped me with insights into various business aspects, such as Accounting, Economics, Finance, Management, International Business, Marketing, and more. This interdisciplinary knowledge enhances my ability to provide comprehensive solutions that effectively bridge the gap between technology and business requirements.
